

WORKPLACE INVESTIGATION

Is your team trained to manage workplace harassment/sexual harassment and violence complaints? What do you do when you receive a written harassment or sexual harassment complaint?

Don't panic! Our team of bilingual trained investigators on Suzanne Desrosiers Professional Corporation can provide you with training on how to conduct a workplace investigation. We also conduct external workplace investigations for both federal employers, including Indigenous businesses, and provincially governed employers. It is preferable that an external investigator be hired when:

- ◆ The complaint is highly sensitive
- ◆ There is a hint of conflict of interest
- ◆ The dispute involves more senior individuals in the organization
- ◆ The allegations are particularly serious
- ◆ The dispute involves complicated legal or technical issues
